WITH THE TIDE.

I watched him I love going from me (Ah, how I wish I had died!)
And I prayed to the great old Father
To stay the turn of the tide.
To stay the ebb and the flow,
And ever the waves called on.
Till meadow and garden and hedgerow
I could see them never a one.
For I knew that my love was dying;
At the turn of the tide he must go.
The soul may not leave its dwelling Till between the ebb and the flow.
And the people who all flocked inland,
They called it a great spritide,
And I listened and joined in their sorrow,
But I knew in my heart that I lied.
And my love as he watched the waters
Sighed wearily for his rest.
Then I prayed once more to our Father,
For I saw that his will was best.
As the sea went slowly backward
The spirit of one who had died
Was borne on the waste of waters,
For the soul must go with the tide.
—Florence Peacock in London Academy.

A Remarkable Woman.

The dowager Lady Stanley of Alder-ley, whose death took place not long since, was a remarkable woman. Her great age of 87 was no hindrance to her extraordinary intellectual and physical activity. She was born before the jubilee of George III. was presented at court to George IV. was familiar with the widow of the young pretender, and was present both at the coronation and at the jubilee of her majesty Queen Victoria.
More than half a century ago Lady Stanley was one of the original promoters of the Queen's college and one of the members of its first council. She assisted Miss Emily Davies, to whom the foundation of Girton college was mainly owing.

During her whole life she has been working for the education of women, never endeavoring to monopolize the credit, and all this good work was accomplished while taking a due interest in her children, even to the second and third generation. Lady Stanley had 12 children, 7 of whom are now living.
Recently she regretted she was not ten years younger, to explore some of the newly investigated regions of central Asia, and it is related that on one of her last visits to the premier, Mr. Gladstone, when he endeavored to turn the conversation from politics by alluding to a recent novel, she said: "Do not let us talk of novels. Leave them for your old age as I do." A singular remark for a lady of 87 addressing a statesman of 85.—Woman's Journal.

The Typewriter in India.

A quaint tale of a typewriter is told by an Anglo-Indian who has just come home. One of the English judges in India was an expert on the machine, and it occurred to him to use it for the taking of judicial notes. The machine was conveyed into court, when a certain novelty was imparted to the proceedings by the click of the keys and the tinkle of the bell which indicated that a line had been completed. The prisoner was found guilty and sentenced. Promptly he appealed, on the ground that instead of listening to the evidence the judge had whistled away his time by playing on a musical instrument.—Realm.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill. was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr.
King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St.
San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at McMonaglie and Rogers' Drug Store.

Fight Over a Football Game.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—Trouble between the Cincinnati university and Marietta college football teams, which began last week, ended yesterday in a forfeited game and culminated last night in a fight at the Gibson House. Foley, of Cincinnati, and Sykes, of Marietta, engaged in a hot discussion of the day's doings. Sykes applied to Foley an opprobrious epithet.
Foley retorted with a fist blow that sprawled Sykes and rendered him speechless for a while. President Simpson, of Marietta, called for the police, and Foley was hustled out by a back door. Sykes was taken to his room, where a surgeon cared for his ear, which had been injured in the game and had been sympathetically hurt by the fist blow between his eyes.
There have been no subsequent proceedings.

day for the congressional season. They

Five Years for an Elopement Swindler.
ATLANTON, Ga., Nov. 23.—Richard C.
Meade, the insurance swindler who de-cayed a couple of years ago with his stenographer, after having swindled several people out of $20,000 was yesterday convicted and sentenced to the state penitentiary for five years. He is 48 years old, has a wife and three children. He has held many positions of prominence in Atlanta and many widows and others placed their money with him to invest. Meade was arrested in New York city in September.

The Convicts Were Armed.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 23.—Another shoot-out took place in the Buchanan county jail yesterday, in which James Anderson was shot and probably fatally wounded by Charles Harris. How the latter secured the weapon is a mystery.
Harris was also beaten over the head with an iron bar and was badly cut with a knife. After the fight weapons of various kinds were found in the possession of the prisoners, but it is not known how they obtained possession of them.

A FILTER INSIDE YOU.

HOW YOUR BLOOD IS KEPT PURE.

Health Comes From Pure Blood. Pure Blood Depends on Your Filter Inside You.

Your Kidneys Keep Your Blood Pure
If They Are Well. A Few Facts About Them, and How to Make Them Well When They Are Sick.

Your blood is what nourishes your body.

New blood is made every minute.
It goes to the lungs, gets fresh air, and then passes through the body.
In passing, it deposits new flesh, fat, bones, etc., and takes up worn out matter.

This worn out matter goes to the kidneys. The kidneys filter it out of the blood and throw it out of the body.

That is, when they are well they do.
When your kidneys are well, they act as perfect filters, to keep your blood pure. When they are sick, they act imperfectly. They leave the bad matter in. Sometimes they take out the good.

There is nothing more poisonous than bad blood.

A proof of this is rheumatism. It is simply a blood-poisoning caused by the bad matter left in the blood by sick kidneys.

Bright's disease is the kidneys working the other way—taking the good food out of the blood.

Both kinds of kidney sickness are dangerous.

Both can be cured by Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

One of the most wonderful facts of our body is this natural filter inside us. Our kidneys are very important organs. We don't take enough care of them. We are sick oftener than there is any need for. It is simply because we take no heed to our kidneys.

Sick kidneys show their effects in many different diseases.

Rheumatism and Bright's Disease are very common. Arteritis, Neuralgia, Pain in the Back, Dizziness, Bladder Troubles, Gravel, Diabetes, Sleeplessness, Nervousness.

These are only a few symptoms, or so-called "diseases." Back of them all are the sick kidneys.

Once the filters can be made to work, all these symptoms will disappear. Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are made principally from the roots of the asparagus plant, which has a special curative action on the kidneys. It gives them new life and strength. It helps them to do their work as it ought to be done. It cures their sickness. It cleans and renews the filter.

When the kidneys are well you will feel a great difference at once. Your complexion will clear, and your whole body will get renewed life and freshness.

This is the effect of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills on the sick kidneys, of the re-vitalized kidneys on the impure blood.

With a course of Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills you will get new life. They will cure you when other medicines, which do not reach the real seat of disease, cannot help you.

Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are for sale by all druggists, price 50c. per box, or will be sent prepaid to any address on receipt of price.

An interesting booklet, explaining about the kidneys and their power for good and evil, sent free on request. Address Hobb's Medicine Co.,

HE GOT A CLERKSHIP

THE SENATOR MADE A BLUNDER BY WHICH THE APPLICANT PROFITED.

When Senator Blank Wanted Anything From Secretary Chandler, He Wanted It Bad—How the Young Man Was Let Down Day and Remained.

Back in the seventies, when Zach Chandler was at the head of the interior department, a young man from one of the western states came to Washington to try clerical life in one of the departments. He had been quite a ward politician in his western home and imagined both the senators from his state would be glad to do him a favor. He spent several days taking in the sights of the capital, then went up to the senate one afternoon and sent in his card to Senator Blank. The senator responded promptly, had the visitor shown into the marble room, and for some time they sat on a sofa together, talking of home news and the home crops. Then the young man broke the ice by informing the senator just what kind of a place he wanted—didn't care much what department it was in.

"Well, I don't know," said the senator. "Such places are not to be found every day, and there are hundreds here from about every state in the Union looking for almost anything in the shape of an appointment."

"Come up to my house about 8 o'clock tonight," said the senator, "and we'll talk the matter over."

Promptly at the appointed time he pulled the doorbell and was ushered into the library, where he found the senator pouring a cigar and looking over The Evening Star.

"Ah, good evening, Mr. —! I was just thinking of you," said Senator Blank. "I have written a strong letter to Secretary Chandler, requesting him to give you a position in the interior department"—picking up an unsolicited letter from his desk and handing it to the young office seeker—"and I would suggest that you call at his office and present it about 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. I have also mailed the secretary a little personal note, letting him know that when I want anything in his office I want it bad."

The young westerner was bowed out of the room with smiles and a hearty handshake. At his hotel he sat down to think over his good luck. Then he thought of the senator's letter and pulled it out of his pocket and read:

DEAR CHANDLER—Some time tomorrow morning a young man of my great and able race came to me for a clerkship. I have no earthly interest in him, so I turn him over to your tender mercy. Let him down easy, Yours, BLANK.

The young man dropped the letter, and a big sigh struggled up from under his watch pocket. "I wonder what he said in the little note he mailed to the secretary?" thought the young candidate. Then he realized that the senator had given him the wrong letter, and he at once determined to call at the interior department the next morning and see what the next day would bring forth.

About 10 o'clock the next forenoon the colored messenger showed a young man into Secretary Chandler's office.

"Senator Blank told me last night he had written you and advised me to call on you this morning," said the young gentleman.

"Ah, yes," smiled the secretary good naturedly, picking up from his desk an open letter and glancing over it. "The senator speaks of you in the highest terms, and is very urgent in his request for your appointment. Wait a moment." And touching a bell he sent his messenger for the chief clerk. After a moment's conversation with the chief clerk the secretary said:

"You are fortunate. There is a $1,200 clerkship made vacant by resignation this morning, and I have ordered your appointment to the place."

A month later Senator Blank was walking through the patent office, and in the corridor met the new clerk in his office. The senator was surprised and a little disconcerted, but he shook hands with his young friend and said he was glad to see him there.

"Well, I'm glad to be here," responded the clerk. "And, senator," putting his hand inside his vest and looking squarely in the other's eye, "right in my inside pocket I keep that little personal note you thought you mailed to Secretary Chandler, telling him when you wanted a thing you wanted it bad."

Explanations were unnecessary. The senator went out of public life and died long ago, but the clerk manages to squeeze along through the hard times on his $1,200 a year.—Washington Star.

The First Lesson of an Arab Boy.
The very first lesson which an Arab baby learns when he begins to talk is to sound very friendly put in that way, but it saves a deal of trouble. Foreigners do not understand Arabs. They ask them pointed questions and receive peculiar answers. They construe the answers to please themselves, and come away to tell the world that the Arabs are a nation of liars. They are not a nation of liars. Perhaps if they should tell the foreigners to mind their own affairs and let them and theirs alone the foreigners would understand them better. "Yamoud," by Henry Willard French, in St. Nicholas.

Blenheim.
Blenheim is one of the biggest and most beautiful places of the kind in England, and the expenses of keeping it up are enormous. The late Duke of Marlborough used to say that it cost £200 a year in putty, and this may be true, since there is a great deal of glass about the place.—London Tit-Bits.

Neutrality is no favorite with Providence, for we are so framed that it is scarcely possible for us to stand neutral in our hearts, although we may deem it prudent to appear so in our actions.—Colton.

She Was Counted Out.
The fat woman and the lean woman attempted to board a Woodward avenue car at the same moment, and as might have been expected the lean woman was crowded back to second place. She felt put out about it, but could have overlooked the matter if the fat woman hadn't plumped down on the seat she meant to take and stuck up her nose at her fall hat. The lean woman got red in the face and put on a sneer at the fat woman's fall cloak. Then the fat woman looked down at the lean woman's well worn shoes and uttered a snort. It was the lean woman's turn now, and she glared at the fat woman's pudgy fingers and elevated her eyebrows. It was now a duel to the death, and the fat woman muttered to herself:

"Oh! I forgot. This is Thursday afternoon, and all the servant girls are out!" That was almost a knockout for the lean woman, but she presently rallied and shot back with:

"And perhaps you are looking for a new place?" That evening up things, and the fat woman was racking her brains to find something meaner yet when an old man sitting beside the lean woman felt it his duty to champion her cause and turned and said:

"Don't wear bloomers nor ride a bike! She'll never wear bloomers nor ride a bike; they're not for such as she!" That settled it. The lean woman quivered up and purred and smiled like a cat in the sun, and the fat woman gave the old man one awful look and then turned away to chew the cud of defeat.—Detroit Free Press.

A Youthful Critic.
At Darlington recently a minister's little daughter was attending her first church service. She had never seen her father in the pulpit before, and on his entrance there her presence of mind forsook her, and she piped out in a voice expressive of recognition:

"Why, there's my papa up there in that box!" Avenging propriety swept down upon the little maiden, and for a season there was a great calm. But the service was grievously long to such a wee worshiper, and she became very restless, walking up and down the pews and sighing audibly.

"It won't be long dear," mamma whispered. Whereupon ensued another brief period of quiet, but it was not to last. Tired baby nature had reached its utmost limit of endurance, and by and by over the quiet listeners came a little voice, clear and plausible and coaxing:

"Isn't you nearly done, papa?"—London Telegraph.

Different.
"I think it a shame for Mr. Paynter to talk shop as he does. I overheard him saying to Mrs. Blumer that he thought he had the prettiest, strongest, most graceful and best proportioned model in the country. He even began to describe her frame when I came away. It must be an awful life to lead—posing for artists—but what astonished me was that Sallie Blumer should listen to him."

"But, my dear Mrs. Primmer, Mr. Paynter was not describing the model that poses for him."

"What was he describing, then?"

"His model!"—Brooklyn Life.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE DURYEA MACHINE WON.

Contest Between Horseless Wagons Under Novel Circumstances.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The Charles E. Duryea gasoline motor-cycle finished first in the Times-Herald contest for prize amounting to $7,000. The contest was in every respect the most novel and the most remarkable in the history of the motor cycle. Monday night Chicago was visited by a blizzard, and when the race started the streets were twelve inches deep in snow, slush and mud. In the face of these odds six motor-cycles made the start: The Duryea, of Springfield, Mass.; the Morris & Salom electrobat, of Philadelphia; the H. Mueller motorcycle, of Detroit, Ill.; the R. H. Macy, of New York; the De La Vergne, of New York; and the Sturges motorcycle, of Chicago.

Thousands witnessed the flight of these vehicles against the fifty-four miles of slush which constituted the course from Jackson Park to Evanston and return. Five of the contestants passed through Lincoln Park, the De La Vergne quitting at Sixteenth street. Duryea started at 8:30 and passed the Auditorium, a distance of eight miles, an hour later. He made the finish at 7:15, completing the course in ten hours and twenty-three minutes. For miles on the west side the boulevards were almost unbroken fields of snow banks and slush.

The Morris & Salom electrobat made no attempt to complete the course, but made a creditable run of fifteen miles and returned to the starting headquarters in perfect condition. The Sturges electric motorcycle abandoned the unequal fight after the run of twelve miles. Both of these electric motors made surprising showing under the circumstances.

The fight for speed honors was between Duryea, Mueller and Macy. Duryea is an American inventor and his motor is a radical departure from the foreign types used on the wagons of his two competitors. The carriage with which he made the race was manufactured two years ago. Since that time Mr. Duryea has made many improvements on his motor, but was unable to complete the work on the new vehicles which he had entered for the contest. He accordingly made the run with the old motorcycle. The H. Mueller machine took second prize.

General Sanguliy's Trial.
HAVANA, Nov. 20.—The trial of General Sanguliy, the Cuban leader, who was arrested on Feb. 24 on the charge of illegal acts against the Spanish government, was commenced yesterday afternoon. General Sanguliy denied having made any appointments with the insurgent leaders, and also denied having written letters to Dr. Betancourt of Matanzas demanding funds to leave with his family while he took the field in the rebel cause. The state's attorney Senior Enjildo, after a speech lasting an hour, demanded that General Sanguliy be sentenced to imprisonment for life. Contradicted for the defense, Senior Miguel Viondi, denied that there was any ground for General Sanguliy's conviction. He pointed out that the proceedings were contrary to the provisions of the treaty between Spain and the United States, which guarantees to American citizens in Cuba a trial by a civil tribunal.

SENATOR HILL AND THE PRESIDENCY.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 20.—Senator D. B. Hill was rendered a reception last evening by the Hennepin Democratic league, and it turned out to be a rather sensational meeting. President Martin, in introducing him, said that he considered him second to no man in the party as regards ability and patriotic statesmanship. If there was any exception it was Grover Cleveland. At the mention of Cleveland's name there were groans from some of the audience. Senator Hill said that the recent defeat was caused by a departure from Democratic precedent. He urged the local Democrats to organize and gave them some practical advice. His spirit of friendly interest manifested itself in his expectation to look to Minnesota for support in his quest of the presidency.

Detectives Indicted for Murder.
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Charles and Joseph McDonald, officers of a private detective agency, have been indicted for the murder of Frank White. They and others are said to have done the deed, and were present at it, not a total participant in the killing.

For the first time in the history of Sing Sing Prison the ban of silence was lifted from the prisoners, yesterday afternoon, and for two hours they were allowed to talk, sing, shout and whistle,—make any noise they chose. It was a Thanksgiving treat, suggested by Warden Sage's kind heart, and was most thoroughly appreciated by the convicts, some of whom, especially the life and long term men who have been in prison for years, had almost forgotten the sound of their own voices.

A NEW ERIE STATION PROMISED.

President Thomas writes that it will be the very first new work done—Hopes to begin it in the early spring. At the meeting of the trustees of the Board of Trade, held Nov. 16th, to consider what could be done to secure a new Erie station for this city, President A. V. Boak and Vice-President John W. Slauson were appointed a committee to bring to the notice of the Erie officials the correspondence upon the subject of a new depot had in April 1893.

Messrs. Boak and Slauson wrote President Thomas, under date of Nov. 25th, enclosing copies of the correspondence of '93 and reminding him of assurances given at that time.

Mr. Thomas answered the communication at once and in a manner more than satisfactory to the Board of Trade and the people of Middletown. His letter is as follows:

New York City, Nov. 27th, '95.
 Mr. A. V. Boak, President, Mr. John W. Slauson, Vice-President, Middletown Board of Trade, Middletown, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—I have your favor of the 25th inst. with enclosure relative to the construction of a new passenger station at Middletown, N. Y.

We have not been unmindful of the needs of Middletown in this respect and the delay in our action has been entirely due to our financial surroundings, of which you have been advised.

The very first new work that will be done by the company will be the erection of a suitable passenger station at your city. There are one or two matters of detail which have not yet been decided and which will require a visit to the location and a discussion with yourselves and the town authorities. Our chief engineer will visit Middletown in the early future and confer with you, and we hope to be able to commence work as early in the spring as the weather will permit.

We recognize and appreciate the fact that the citizens of your town have been very patient and forbearing with us in this matter. They should have had better accommodations, long ago, but, as I have stated, our unfortunate financial condition has prevented us from taking any action. Happily, we are now in better shape and Middletown shall promptly reap the benefit of our good fortune.
 Yours truly,
 E. B. THOMAS

November Lightning Strikes at Monticello.

The residence of A. M. Felton in Monticello was struck by lightning during the heavy shower, which passed over that village Tuesday evening. The chimney was shattered and the bolt passed down into the cellar, from which place it followed the steam pipes into the store adjoining, where it slightly shocked Joseph Reynolds, who was leaning against a radiator.

Grace Church's Thanksgiving Gifts to the Poor.

Among the provisions received by the ladies of Grace Church for Thanksgiving distribution were two turkeys and ten chickens with one barrel of flour and numerous sundries in the shape of preserves, jams, apples, potatoes and peas. The allotments were made by a committee of the Daughters of the King and dispatched to their respective destinations, Wednesday evening.

A Ladies' Whist Party.

The ladies' whist party given, Wednesday afternoon, by Mrs. Robert H. Dolson, at her pleasant home on Academy avenue, was attended by about forty-five guests and was pronounced by all present one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind ever given in this city. There were no prizes.

How often do we hear people say, "I have no confidence in this or that." The ladies who use Kingford's Laundry starch never talk in uncertain tones. It requires no boiling.

The numerous cures of rheumatism by the use of the old standard blood-purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, show conclusively that it is an effective remedy, if not indeed the specific, for this most painful and persistent of maladies. What has cured others will also cure you.

Rackett-Bizzard.

Correspondence Angus and Mercury.
 The residence of Mrs. S. Bizzard, near Johnson, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Thanksgiving afternoon, when Miss Josie, Mrs. Bizzard's youngest daughter, and Mr. George H. Rackett were united in marriage.
 The bride couple were preceded by the bride's little niece and nephew and entered the parlor to the strains of a wedding march rendered by Miss Mattie Wood, of Slate Hill. The wedding ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. R. G. Taylor, of Westport.
 After spending a few days among their many friends, Mr. and Mrs. Rackett will take up their residence in New York city where the groom is engaged in the milk business.

THE FOX HUNT AT MIDWAY.

The Fox Too Foxy for Dogs and Hunters—A Missing Fox Hound.
 The fox hunt at Midway Park attracted about fifty sportsmen with dogs and guns. There was only one dog which enjoyed the distinction of being a genuine fox hound, and he followed the fox which was released on Hopper Hill. Reynard evaded all the gunners and made his way to the kill, followed by the hound. The dog has not yet returned, but was heard of yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of New Hampton.

Mrs. Ward Not in Ellenville.

The Ellenville Press says that since it was reported that Riley Carl and Mrs. Ward were in Ellenville, the authorities have been on the lookout for them but have not been able to locate them. It is generally believed that the story told in Livingston Manor by Mosher of his having seen Carl in Ellenville was pure fiction.

KILLED IN THE O. AND W. YARD.
A Brakeman Thrown from His Car Falls Under the Wheels—Boys Supposed to Have Caused the Accident by Loosening Brakes on Coal Cars.
William Kichenmeister, an O. and W. brakeman, was instantly killed in the North yard of the O. and W., in this city, yesterday afternoon. He was standing on a flat car giving signals to his engineer, preparatory to making a coupling, when eight loaded coal cars crashed into the car from the opposite direction. The unfortunate man lost his balance and fell to the track. The wheels of the car passed over his head, killing him instantly and crushing and mangleing his face in a most terrible manner.
The body was carried to the W. Ck-ham avenue depot, and taken thence to Rockafellow's undertaking establishment. Coroner Decker was called and a jury impelled, which viewed the remains and will hold an inquest this afternoon.
Mr. Kichenmeister was the head brakeman on Conductor Kirby's train and had been in the employ of the O. and W. for five or six years.
He was born in Germany, where his father, mother, brothers and sisters still live. He had no relatives in this country. Deceased was a naturalized citizen, a member of Luther Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Division No.
40, Brotherhood of Railroad Train-men.
The organizations above mentioned have charge of the funeral, which will be held at the First Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.
The members of both lodges are requested to meet in their respective lodges rooms at 1 o'clock and proceed to the church in a body.
Mr. Kichenmeister was a sober industrious hard working employe and was well liked by the O. and W. officials and by his fellow trainmen.
An investigation as to the causes which led to the collision which resulted in Kichenmeister's death, disclosed the fact that a number of boys were playing around the cars in the yard and according to the affidavit of four of them, Claude Seise and James Kennedy released the brakes on the cars, and started them down the grade.
The affidavit of Jesse Gould was as follows:
I am ten years old. I was playing with Edward and Darwin White near Butler and Martin's switch, this morning, and saw Claude Seise and James Kennedy playing on the cars, as they describe. I heard Edward White tell them to stop, and their reply that they would not. I saw the cars start, and Claude Seise and James Kennedy jump off, and try to stop the cars by putting pieces of iron on the track.

JESSE GOULD.
Corroborative affidavits were made by George Gould, aged twelve, and Edward and Darwin White, aged ten and eight years.
Arthur Monarque, aged fifteen, saw the two boys on the cars in motion.
He swore that he ran towards them, intending to turn the switch so that the cars would run into Ketcham's siding, but could not reach the switch in time.
Mr. George Marsden, tax and claim agent of the O. and W., appeared before the Recorder, this morning, and entered a complaint against Seise and Kennedy, charging them with destroying railroad property. They were arrested and brought into court, where they told a tale which differs entirely from the statements made by the other boys.
THE ACCUSED BOYS' STORY
They are eight years of age and very small for their years. They claimed that the cars were started by a larger boy, whose name they did not know, who was rickling scrap iron along the road. He knocked a pick handle from under the wheels of one of the cars, and with that stick knocked the brake dog loose on several cars. The cars failed to start and the boy found a "pinch bar" and set them in motion with that, by prying against the rails and underneath the wheels.
They described the boy, and were remanded to the custody of their parents until Monday next, at 2 p. m., to allow the officers an opportunity to hunt for the missing lad.
Seise is the son of Edward Seise, of 36 Wisner avenue. The latter saw the cars in motion and boarded one, and was engaged in setting brakes when the collision occurred.
Kennedy is a son of James Kennedy, an employe in J. G. Martin's foundry.

A Surprise and Presentation.
The members of Martha Washington Lodge, Rebecca Degree, I. O. O.
F. tendered a surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. John Miles, No. 13 Lake avenue, last evening. Brother O. J.
Thayer in behalf of the lodge, presented Mrs. Miles with a handsome gold badge emblematical of the order. The party brought a supply of cysters which were served in various styles, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN COSHEN.
The Stone Cutting Industry Secured—
St. John's Church Fair—Catawact's Thanksgiving Hop—Spent Thanksgiving in Town—Other Notes.
From Our Regular Correspondent.
—Arrangements will be made at once to transfer the force of stone cutters of the Empire State Granite Company from Pine Island to this village. About fifty stone cutters are employed by the company, which hopes to increase the number to 200 by next summer. These men receive from $3 to $3.50 a day. This means a large pay roll, which will in a large degree benefit our tradesmen. This enterprise has been secured to Goshen through the efforts of several of its right minded citizens. Through their diligence seemingly insurmountable obstacles have been overcome and the desired result brought about.
—St. John's Church fair was very largely attended, last night. Many out of town guests were present, for whose accommodation special arrangements had been made. A particularly good time was enjoyed by all present.
—Undoubtedly the most successful social event of the season was the full dress promenade concert of Cataract Engine and Hose Company, at Music Hall, Wednesday evening. As was anticipated the attendance was unusually large. About fifty couples were present, and fully 100 spectators. Guests were present from New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Middletown, Monroe, Florida, Washingtonville, Chester, and almost every place in the county. The musical part of the programme, under the direction of Carl Berg, was superbly rendered. Very charming, very beautiful and very elaborate were the costumes of the ladies, many of which were especially prepared for this event. Refreshments were served during the evening. The dancing, which commenced at 9:30, was continued until an early hour. Thanksgiving morning. The next concert will be given on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 12th.
—Mr. George P. Van Riper will remove, with his family, to Paterson, for the winter, this week.
—Among the former Goshenites who spent Thanksgiving at Goshen were: Mr. Harry D. Mills, of Waldwick; James G. Coleman, of P. Coleman Theological Seminary; Joseph O.
Coleman, of Albany Medical School;
Dr. Alie Cassady, E. I. Reeve, George Grier, Gus Mapes and James Ludlum, of New York; Lang Murray, of Yale College; Mr. and Mrs. John H.
Roemer, of White Plains; Charles Duryea, of Cornell Military Academy; Messrs. George and Edward Ray, and their respective families, of Newburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murray and E. I. Farrell, of Warwick.
—Teams 2 and 3 will bowl in the Goshen Social and Athletic Association's bowling tournament, to-night.
—J. A. White, wife of Floyd R. Ray, formerly of Goshen, died at her home in Newburgh, Thursday, of consumption, aged about thirty six years.
—Last football match of the season on the Driving Park, to-morrow.
The Goshen eleven of yesterday will play the Palmo Institute team of Central Valley, at 2:30 o'clock.

FOOTBALL IN THE MUD
A Very One-sided Game Played in the Mire on the Goshen Driving Park—Liberty's Players No Match for the Goshen Eleven.
From Our Goshen Correspondent.
The football game between the Liberty Athletic Club's team and the eleven of the Goshen Social and Athletic Association at the Driving Park, yesterday afternoon, proved to be an easy thing for the Goshen players. The condition of the field was so soft and awful, and owing principally to this fact the game was called after the first half. The score was 24 to 0 in Goshen's favor.
Liberty's representatives brought with them only nine men and considerable delay was experienced in starting the game on this account.
Two more players were finally obtained, however, and the teams lined up as follows:
Liberty: Left End ..... Goshen:
Misher ..... Right Tackle .....
Nutting ..... Left Guard .....
Ramppe ..... Centre .....
Tarpole ..... Right Guard .....
Shepard ..... Right Tackle .....
Platt ..... Right End .....
Shaw ..... Quarter Back .....
Benedict ..... Left Halfback .....
Galt ..... Right Halfback .....
Kilbourn ..... Full Back .....
Mr. W. H. Wyker was the umpire.
James E. Landy lineman and Howard Powelson referee.
From the moment the ball was put in play the game was all one-sided.
Goshen had no trouble in pushing the ball through their opponent's line, for large gains, at every trial.
Two pretty pieces of work were the touch downs scored by the two long runs made by Haight, with Murray and Monell running interference, around Liberty's left end. The bunting, running and tackling of these three men were a feature of the game. A. Coleman, Goshen's little quater back, as usual, put up a great game.

The one and only brilliant play made by the Liberty team was when Gaibraith, breaking through Goshen's line, carried the ball down the field for, perhaps, forty yards, before he was "nailed" by Rod Coleman.
Just before the close of the half, one of Liberty's players was noticed to lie down in the mud, and a rumor went abroad that the man had fractured two of his ribs. This was not the case; he was simply winded.
"Bill" Tierney had sat down on him; that was all. This, and a slight cut received by Henry Haight, comprise the casualties of the day. Several hundred people paid the admission fee to see the game, and fully as many more witnessed it from the back stretch.

BLINDED BY AN EXPLOSION.
Gr. Gory Martin Shockingly Burned by an Explosion in His Father's Foundry—One Eye Out and Likely to Lose the Other—Cause of the Explosion Unknown.
Gregory Martin, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. James G. Martin, proprietor of the North End Foundry, was badly burned by an explosion at his father's foundry about 6 o'clock, last evening. He loses the sight of one eye, and in all probability will lose the sight of the other.
Young Martin is an ambitious little fellow, and when not at school could always be found about the foundry helping at odd jobs.
The hot metal was about ready for use, last night, when the lad stepped up to the glass "peep hole" to take a look at the fiery furnace. He had scarcely reached the place when an explosion occurred, and he was thrown a distance of fifteen feet. One of the workmen was knocked down but was uninjured.
Other workmen rushed to the boy and found that his face was badly burned. His father was in the office when the explosion occurred, but soon reached the scene. He telephoned for the ambulance, but it was late in arriving, so he started with his plucky little fellow to walk to meet it.
The boy was taken to Thrall Hospital, where it was ascertained that one eye was completely destroyed and the other so badly injured that there is little hope of saving it.
The cause of the explosion is unknown. It may have been caused by the formation of gases, or by some explosive which had been thrown into the furnace with the scrap iron. The boy was resting comfortably at the hospital this afternoon.

Good night to you, dear! You are weary,
And the moon o'er the mountains declines
The wind blowing westward sighs dreary
And wanders and waits through the vines.
You have listened so oft to the tender Sweet story—so tender and true
What grace to it all could I render Out here with the roses and you?
Good night to you, dear! Yet I linger Like one near a spot that is best,
And to you with the ring on your finger
And kiss the red ring on your breast.
And good night, and good night, dear, and
But I love you forever and ever,
And I kiss you at good night and good day.

A FRIEND INDEED.

The Nantuxet Yacht club was all excitement on account of the race which was to be sailed the following day. The regular races for the season were finished and the prizes had been awarded, but a special race, in which the two fastest boats of the club were to compete for a cash prize of $1,000, was arranged for the morrow. Both yachts had won in many regattas, and their good qualities had been largely discussed, yet they had never raced against each other. Each captain boasted much of the superior speed of his own yacht, and finally to settle the question a special race was arranged. The yachts were beautiful little 46 foot sloops, and so much alike that none but an experienced eye could have detected that the Phebe, belonging to Captain James Warbone, had a slightly larger sail, which made it necessary that she should give the Pilgrim, Captain Bart's boat, a small time allowance. Both boats had many friends, and the excitement was running high.

Everything on board the Phebe was taut and trim, and Captain Warbone had finished his supper and was puffing away at his cigar. The new moon was setting beyond the hills, and the chirping of the crickets and the sharp grating of the katydids from the shore could be distinctly heard on board the yacht. "Well, Charlie, I don't see why we can't beat the Pilgrim in good shape, do you?" said the captain. "Well, cap'n, we'll have to work hard to beat her, but I think we can do it if we have plenty of wind. We must put some other rigging on that jib than them sister looks. They can't never be depended on, and we don't want to break down tomorrow."

"All right, Charlie. We will do that in the morning. You call me as soon as you get the decks scrubbed down. Good night. I'm going to turn in."

"Good night, cap'n," returned Charlie, as he went forward to keep anchor watch. Charles, as you doubtless have surmised, was the right hand man on the Phebe.

On board the Pilgrim everything was different. The captain, Franklin Bart, was holding a low conversation with a rough looking man of the longshore type. Every few minutes he would push a bottle across the table so that Dan, as he called him, could fill his glass. "You are sure you can do it, Dan? It won't do to have any breaks made and the trick discovered, you know."

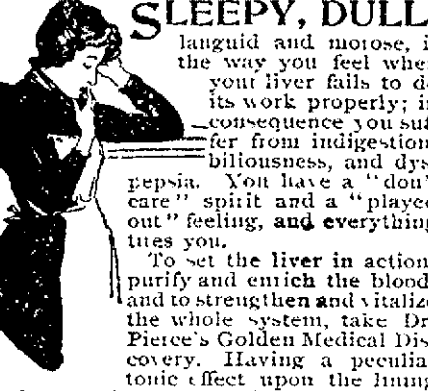

"I can stay under water for a minute and a half, and that ought to do the business, cap'n, 'cause I can drive two nails in that time if I take a seam, sure."

"Well," said Bart suddenly, after a silence, "stop drink and go ashore. When you get the job done, come back and report."

"Aye, aye, sir. I'll do it." So saying Dan pushed off in the dingy, and with strong, unobtrusive strokes toward the boat down the river with the current to where the Phebe was anchored. He then beached his boat, and going into the bushes, soon brought back a life preserver, hammer, nails and an empty tin bag. He carefully put the last mentioned articles on the life preserver, and after divesting himself of his clothes, started to swim to the Phebe, pushing the life preserver before him. Swimming around under the stern he took the pre-curved ladder post and dove down under the keel and nailed the bag to the bottom of the ship. The noise aroused Charlie, for the slightest sound of anything rubbing against a boat suggests danger and puts a seaman on the alert.

Dan had risen to the top of the water for breath, and hanging to the ladder post remained quiet for some time. After looking around Charlie thought the noise must have been caused by a log or piece of driftwood striking the life preserver, and so went on his way, and slept till daylight.

Dan pushed off and slowly guided the life preserver to the shore. Then, putting it in the dingy he towed to the Pilgrim, where Bart was waiting for him. He climbed on board, and after another vigorous attack on the bottle turned in for a nap.

SLEEPY, DULL, LAUGUID AND MOROSE.

is the way you feel when your liver fails to do its work properly. In consequence you suffer from indigestion, biliousness, and dyspepsia. You have a "don't care, spirit" and "played out" feeling, and everything tires you. To set the liver in action, purify and enrich the blood, and to strengthen and vitalize the whole system, try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Having a peculiar tonic effect upon the lining membrane of the stomach and bowels, it makes a lasting cure of all stomach, liver and bowel disorders. By increasing the blood supply, as well as enriching it, all the organs of the body are strengthened, and the nerves are fed on pure, rich blood.

Neuralgia, the crying of the starved nerves for food, nervous debility and exhaustion, sleeplessness and nervous prostration are in most instances the direct result of a starved condition of the blood. The true way to cure these ailments permanently is to take the "Golden Medical Discovery," which was discovered and prescribed by an eminent physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, at present chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. If you want a medical opinion on your case, write him. It will cost you nothing.

A Book of 1000 pages, profusely illustrated, treating of "Diseases of the Digestive Organs," will be mailed on receipt of postage, twenty-one cents. It contains names, addresses and reproduced photographs of a vast number of people cured of dyspepsia, "liver complaint," chronic diarrhea, Buffalo, N. Y. "Matron of a Benevolent Home and knowing the good Dr. Miles' Nervine has done me, may wish to help others, overcome my dislike for the publicity, this letter may give me. In Nov. and Dec., 1891, 'The inmates had the 'Catarrh,' and I was one of the first. Resuming duty soon, with the care of so many sick, I did not regain my health, and in a month I became so debilitated and nervous that I was unable to do the work made on my vitality, that it was a question if I could go on. A dear friend advised me to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I took two bottles and am happy to say, I am in better health than ever. I still continue my occasional use, as a nerve food, as my work is very trying. A letter addressed to Milwaukee, Wis., will reach me." June 6, 1894. Mrs. Laura C. Phoenix.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at 25c per bottle, or it will be sent prepaid on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Med. Co., Elkhart, Ind.

the river, around a busy three miller out, and back across a line from the clubhouse to the commodore's yacht anchored opposite. The Pilgrim had returned from her spin and was sailing near the clubhouse. There were five minutes to spare before the first gun, when the Phebe cast anchor and moved gracefully out into the stream. She attained a good rate of speed, withstanding the fact that a large flour bag was holding her back. The bag retarded her only when she was out ahead, so she still retained her not a quantity of quickness in stays. Dr. Bart was leaning down to tow the line. The wind was fair to go out of the river to the buoy and a dead beat home.

"Charlie, we don't seem to go very well this morning," said Warbone as they beached the line for the start.

Bart went the first gun, and the yachts leaped toward the line as if they heard the signal and realized its meaning. All was excitement, the people on both sides cheered, and every available hour was flown.

Bart went the second gun, and the yachts crossed the line, with the Phebe slightly ahead.

Notwithstanding the flour bag the Phebe managed to keep her position, though each boat would at intervals drop slightly astern of the other and then slowly forged ahead. They kept together until the stakeboat was reached, and then the Pilgrim slowly but surely gained the lead. She was soon spitting tacks with the Phebe, when the straining cry of "Man overboard!" was heard from the Pilgrim.

Looking ahead, the Phebe's crew saw something bobbing up and down in the waves behind the leading yacht, and all possible speed was made, as the Pilgrim seemed to have become unmanageable. The Phebe was soon on the spot, but the man, who was recognized as Captain Bart, had already sunk twice. As soon as they were near enough Captain Warbone jumped overboard and swam to the drowning man, who had come to the surface for the third time. He caught him by the collar, and with the aid of a ring buoy which Charlie had thrown him, started to bring him to the shore.

The small boat, which immediately came from the Phebe, arrived. The man in the Pilgrim was breathing, but he carried him on deck, but after 15 minutes' hard work by Captain Warbone, he opened his eyes and gasped. He did not seem to realize what had happened, but in a stupor for some minutes.

By this time the Pilgrim was alongside, and it was feared that he had been sitting on the windward and had steering wheel. He had lost the lead of the race, and was behind.

Having been hurt and almost accidently run over, he was unable to swim, and had not been able to get the quick work of the Pilgrim crew of the Phebe he would not have been drowned.

When he recovered and was able to sit up and breathe what had happened, he turned to Captain Warbone and said:

"Captain Warbone, I have played a mean trick on you, and you have a return owed me. I have had a down on the day, and I would not have lost this race."

Then he turned and related the whole matter to the surprised captain.

"I have never done such a thing before, but I could not help myself. I know," he ended, "and it has been that I am very much for money and comfort, and I keep my boat if I lost the race."

Captain Warbone, who had always regarded his rival as a noble man, said:

"Never mind, old man. We will keep it quiet, and in return we will race for glory and money."

The don't care attitude of the Phebe was a long time. The two captains were fast friends from that day, and Warbone has never mentioned the incident to any one, though Bart has often illustrated what he termed his "trick" in the captain of the Phebe—'Unlucky Conant.'
